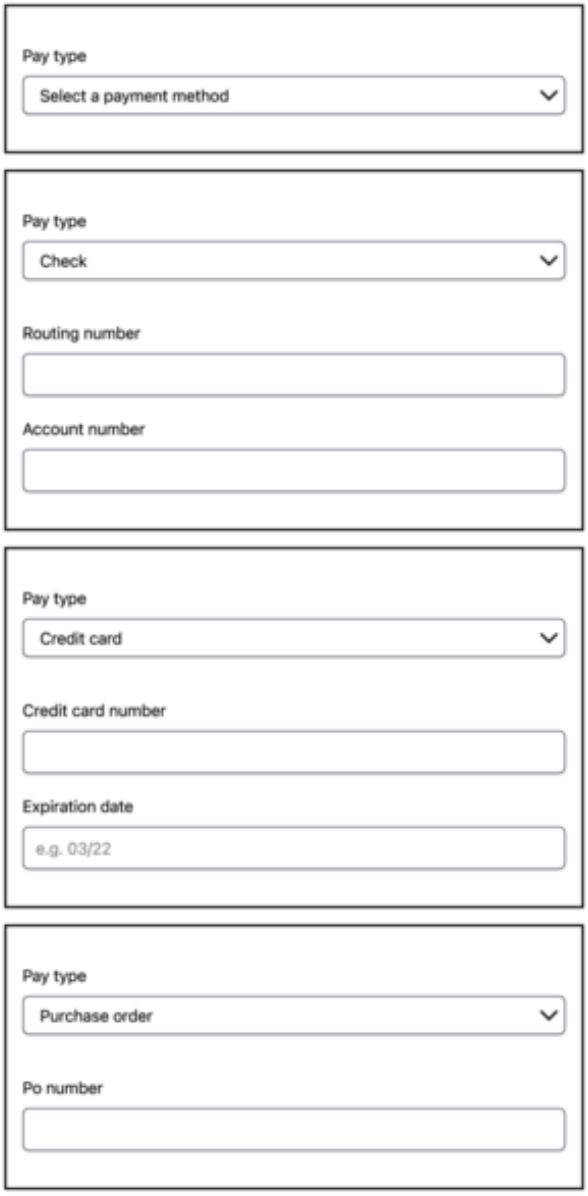
With both the code and markup now in place, we revisit the browser to see the results shown in the screenshots.



If that isn’t what you’re seeing, here are some things to check:

- Your browser’s console is always a great resource and where you’ll find both syntax and runtime errors in your JavaScript code.
- Check for typos in your markup and in the portions of the payment Stimulus controller that need to match your markup. Remember that