the `authenticate` method to authenticate with that password.

Before a first test we need to add some validations in `app/models/user.rb` to make sure that we have an email address and that it is unique:

class User < ApplicationRecord has_secure_password
  validates :email, presence: true, uniqueness: true end
```

Now we can fire up Rails and create a new user in the browser:

$ rails s

Screencast: Create a new user at http://localhost:3000/users/new
