respect lawyers. But nevertheless a lawyer represents precedent and tradition and not change, not a dynamic process. Above all, the lawyer represents litigation …

Shri Kamath: You have also been a lawyer.

Shri Jawaharlal Nehru: … [J]ust as, if I may say so with all respect, that in the modern system of treating disease the doctor is rightly interested in disease …

Shri Jawaharlal Nehru: Somehow we have found that this magnificent Constitution that we have framed was later kidnapped and purloined by the lawyers.

Shri Gautam (Utter Pradesh): It is a paradise for them.

Shri Jawaharlal Nehru: Yes. I do not grudge anyone entering paradise but what I do object to is the shutting of the door and of barring and bolting it and preventing others from coming in. The other day I was reading an article about India by a very eminent American and in that article which contained many correct statements and some incorrect statements, the author finished up by saying that India has very difficult problems to face but the most acute of them he said, can be put in five words and those five words were: land, water, babies, cows and capital. I think that there is a great deal of truth in this concise analysis of the Indian situation.

Shri Kamath: No lawyers there?

Shri Jawaharlal Nehru: I am not for the moment going to say anything about babies or cows, important as they are, nor do I wish to say anything about capital which is a most important question. Our capital resources are matters with which my colleague the Finance Minister and the Planning Commission are dealing but we come back to land and water. Water is connected with the land that we want to improve and we have big river
