other hand, the incidence of indirect taxes namely taxes on goods, services, excise, etc., are borne by everyone who purchases/consumes those goods and services. Indirect taxes are considered more regressive due to the fact that rich and poor bear the same tax.

30. www.incometaxindia.gov.in
31. 'Luxury car sales grow fastest in 5 years in India', Business Today dated 9 January 2018 – data of car sales of Audi, Mercedes, BMW, Jaguar Land Rover and Volvo. Data is as follows: 2014: 31,912 cars; 2015: 36,207; 2016: 33,318; 2017: 38,959. Total number of luxury cars sold between 2014 and 2017: 1,40,396! See https://www.businesstoday.in/sectors/auto/luxury-car-sales-grow-fastest-5-years--india/story/267578.html
32. Vivek Kaul is the author of the Easy Money Trilogy and editor of Vivek Kaul's Diary. Data in this section is drawn with thanks from his blogs written in 2017–18; https://teekhapan.wordpress.com/category/vivek-kauls-diary/
33. The Direct Taxes Enquiry Committee 1971 (also referred to as the Wanchoo Committee), stated: 'The higher rates of direct taxes were mainly responsible for tax evasion because they made tax evasion profitable and attractive…When the marginal rate of taxation is as high as 97.75 per cent (which it was at that time), the net profit of concealment can be as much as 4,300 per cent, namely rather than paying 97.75 per cent tax on 100 rupees earned in the top bracket and retaining only 2.25 rupees out of it, by concealing your income, you make a profit of 97.75/2.25 x 100 = 4344 per cent of the after-tax.' Kishore C. Samal, 'Chasing Black Money in India', Journal of Indian School of Political Economy, Vol. 4, No. 2, April–June 1992.
34. '91 lakh added to tax net post demonetisation, Finance Minister', The Times of India dated 17 May 2017, https://timesofindia.indiatimes.com/business/india-business/91-lakh-added-to-tax-net-post-demonetisation-finance-minister-arun-jaitley-says/articleshow/58707224.cms
35. '33 lakh tax payers added to tax net post demonetisation', The Financial Express dated 1 August 2017, https://www.financialexpress.com/economy/33-lakh-taxpayers-added-to-tax-net-post-demonetisation/789848/
36. In May 2013, CBDT made the e-filing of income tax returns compulsory. The rule was applicable starting in AY 2013-14 for persons having a total assessable income exceeding ₹5 lakh.
37. 'Demonetisation has positive impact, says Jaitley', The Indian Express dated 13 February 2017, http://indianexpress.com/article/india/demonetisation-has-positive-impact-says-jaitley-4521324/
38. In a TV interview with Zee News editor Sudhir Chaudhary on 19 January 2018, responding to a question on employment, the PM said, 'Government initiatives have empowered small-scale entrepreneurs and informal sectors… If someone opens a pakoda shop in front of your office, does that not count at employment? The person's daily earning of ₹200 will never come into any books or accounts. The truth is massive people are being employed.'
39. The Economic Survey 2018 stated after implementation of the GST bill on 1 July 2017, 'Adjusting the base for double and triple counting, the GST has increased the number of unique indirect tax payers by more than 50 per cent, a substantial 3.4 million.' And also, 'The GST has been widely heralded for many things, especially its potential to create one