world where God and the king could coexist in peace.

TIMELINE 18

SRI LANKA	SOUTHERN INDIA	NORTHERN INDIA	WESTERN FRANCIA	ENGLAND
				William the Conqueror (1066–1087)
Vijaya Bahu (1070–1110)	War between Chola and Chalukya
		Ramapala of the Pala (1082–1124)
				William II (1087–1100)
				Anselm, Archbishop of Canterbury (1093–1109)
		Vijay Sen of the Sena (1096–1159)
				Henry I (1100–1135)
				Concordat of London (1107)
			Fulk V, Count of Anjou (1109–1129)
			Peter Abelard becomes master at Notre Dame (1114)
		Bahram Shah of the Ghaznavids (1118–1152)
	Bijjala II of the Kalachuri (1130–1167)		Abelard's works burned at Soissons (1121)
			Theologia Scholarium of Abelard (1135)	Stephen (1135–1154)
	Rise of the lingayat movement		Louis VII (1137–1180)
				Theobald of Bec, Archbishop of Canterbury (1138–1161)
				The Anarchy (1139–1154)
			Abelard condemned (1141)
		Madanapala of the Pala (1144–1162)
			Peter Lombard teaches at Notre Dame (1145)
		Sena conquest of the Pala (1150)
		Ghurid sack of Ghazni
Parakrama Bahu (1153–1186)			Eleanor and Henry of Anjou married (1152)
				Treaty of Wallingford (1154)
				Henry II (1154–1189)
		Ballal Sen of the Sena (1160–1178)
				Thomas Becket, Archbishop of Canterbury (1162–1170)
		Death of 'Ala' al-Din Husain (1163)
Parakrama reforms Buddhism (1165)
				Assize of Clarendon (1166)
	Someshvara of the Kalachuri (1172–1176)
	Sankama of the Kalachuri (1176–1187)	Ghurid invasion of Ghaznavids (1175–1187)
	Somesvara IV of the Chalukya (1183–1187)
		Destruction of the Ghaznavids (1187)

*Henry II had already given the Archbishop of York permission to coronate young Henry, and the ceremony had taken place in June; Becket was offered the chance to take part in a second coronation that would supersede the first (and make very clear that Becket was still the senior churchman in the land).