period. After this, the committee process, and a strong community, gave the drafting of the Indian Financial Code, version 1.1, in 2015. The next phase of financial reform will require constructing a comparable community as the first phase.