dismissed by the governor as long as he/she enjoys the majority support in the legislative assembly.[2] But, if he/she loses the confidence of the assembly, he/she must resign or the governor can dismiss him/her.

The salary and allowances of the Chief Minister are determined by the state legislature. In addition to the salary and allowances, which are payable to a member of the state legislature, he/she gets a sumptuary allowance, free accommodation, travelling allowance, medical facilities, etc.

POWERS AND FUNCTIONS OF CHIEF MINISTER

The powers and functions of the Chief Minister can be studied under the following heads:

 In Relation to Council of Ministers

The Chief Minister enjoys the following powers as head of the state council of ministers:

1. The governor appoints only those persons as ministers who are recommended by the Chief Minister.
2. He/she allocates and reshuffles the portfolios among ministers.
3. He/she can ask a minister to resign or advise the governor to dismiss him/her in case of difference of opinion.
4. He/she presides over the meetings of the council of ministers and influences its decisions.
5. He/she guides, directs, controls and coordinates the activities of all the ministers.
6. He/she can bring about the collapse of the council of ministers by resigning from office. Since the Chief Minister is the head of the council of ministers, his/her resignation or death automatically dissolves the council of ministers. The resignation or death of any other minister, on the other hand, merely creates a vacancy, which the Chief Minister may or may not like to fill.

 In Relation to the Governor

The Chief Minister enjoys the following powers in relation to the governor:

1. He/she is the principal channel of communication between the governor and the council of ministers.[3] It is the duty of the Chief Minister:
    1. to communicate to the Governor of the state all decisions of the council of ministers relating to the administration of the affairs of the state and proposals for legislation;
    2. to furnish such information relating to the administration of the affairs of the state and proposals for legislation as the governor may call for; and
    3. if the governor so requires, to submit for the consideration of the council of ministers any matter on which a decision has been taken by a minister but which has not been considered by the council.
