2. Emphasis on form of complaint rather than substance.
3. Heavy punishment for false and frivolous complaints against public servants may deter complaints being filed to Lokpal.
4. Anonymous complaints not allowed – Can't just make a complaint on plain paper and drop it in a box with supporting documents.
5. Legal assistance to public servant against whom complaint is filed.
6. Limitation period of 7 years to file complaints.
7. Very non-transparent procedure for dealing with complaints against the PM.

Lokayuktas

Even much before the enactment of the Lokpal and Lokayuktas Act (2013) itself, many states had already set up the institution of Lokayuktas.

It must be noted here that the institution of lokayukta was established first in Maharashtra in 1971. However, Odisha had passed the Act in this regard in 1970.

The various aspects of the institution of lokayukta are:

1. The structure of the lokayukta is not same in all the states. Some states have created the lokayukta as well as upalokayukta, while some others have created only the lokayukta.
2. The lokayukta and upalokayukta are appointed by the governor of the state.
3. Judicial qualifications are prescribed for the lokayukta in some states. But no specific qualifications are prescribed in other states.
4. In most of the states, the term of office fixed for lokayukta is of 5 years duration or 65 years of age, whichever is earlier.
5. There is no uniformity regarding the jurisdiction of lokayukta in all the states. The following points can be noted in this regard:
    1. The chief minister is included within the jurisdiction of lokayukta in some states, while he/she is excluded from the purview of lokayukta in other states.
    2. Ministers and higher civil servants are included in the purview of lokayukta in almost all the states.
    3. Members of state legislatures are included in the purview of lokayukta in some states.
    4. The authorities of the local bodies, corporations, companies and societies are included in the jurisdiction of the lokayukta in most of the states.
6. In most of the states, the lokayukta can initiate investigations either on the basis of a complaint received from the citizen against unfair administrative action or suo moto.
