India’s sovereign rating acts as the ceiling. Their cost of borrowings are likely to rise notably if India’s ratings were to be downgraded to non-investment category.