and integration of autonomous aerial transport into future smart city mobility networks.

Figure 9.7 Dubai – early adoption of drone taxi demonstrations. ⏎

9.8.8 Paris 2024 Olympic Games – UAM preparedness and air mobility corridors

In preparation for the 2024 Summer Olympic Games, Paris became one of the first major European cities to actively plan for urban air mobility (UAM) demonstration flights, using the global event as a proving ground for drone taxi infrastructure and regulated air mobility corridors. Supported by the French Civil Aviation Authority (DGAC), the airport operator