

However, choose the All Borders if you want the border line to fully appear around the corners of a cell or range of cells already selected.

To gain a better understanding of how border styles function, I recommend you experiment with each of them from the drop-down menu.

Try applying a specific border style to a cell and then deselect it by selecting the No Border option, before repeating the process with a different border style.