You can always click on the None preset to remove all the borderlines.

Finally, on the border tab you have the Border section, which allows you to manually add border lines to the cell or group of cells you selected.

The position where your borderline will appear is represented by each box at the edge.