Excel formulas also use Functions; functions are predefined formulas to perform specific or more complicated math calculations and data retrieval.