cause the link to break because the reference is no longer valid.

If you close and reopen the Workbook containing the reference to the external file, you may see a prompt stating that the link is broken and asking you to either update the link or continue.

If you click the "Update" button, you will see another prompt that allows you to choose options for editing the links.

Updating a Broken Reference Link to an External Workbook

If you click the "Update" button, you will see another prompt that allows you to choose options for editing the links.

Click on the Update values button to locate the external file on your device.