EXCEL RIBBON

Just below the quick access toolbar, you have the Excel ribbon. It runs along the Excel interface from left to right of your screen.

The Excel ribbon has similar characterristics found in other office suit applications, such as the ribbon, tabs, groups, and commands.

Each tab has its own groups and commands, and when you click on one, the ribbon toggles to display specific groups and associated commands. If you are using an older version of Excel or a Mac system, your interface could be slightly different.
