

Use this method to look for a particular value in a worksheet with a lot of data. The IF function lets you quickly find cells within a column containing specific information rather than manually scrolling through the entire column.