In the above illustration, the LEN and IF functions were used to check if the content of cell C3 is equal to 12 characters. If true, an SMS is sent to the individual using their phone number. If False, the individual is sent the same message through their email address.