CELL

A cell is a small rectangle or box on an active Excel worksheet.

The active cell is the one that is selected with a bolder rectangle and where your data appears when you start typing.

You can only have only one active cell at a time to enter data.

Each cell has its address identified using the row and column headers.

