

Anyone else trying to open the workbook will either accept to view it as a read-only by clicking on the Yes button or the No button to view the file without protection. This is why you must consider using the read-only method to protect your workbook.