DEALING WITH LENGTHY SENTENCES

If you input a lengthy sentence in an Excel cell, it will exceed the cell's width and may not fit properly.

To view the default values for Column Width or Row Height, right-click on the column or row header and select the respective option. This is necessary because each cell has a preset dimension, with the default values being 8.43 for column width and 15.00 for row height.

