planning prevents confusion which, in turn, affects the smooth performance of job what so ever it may be.

(ii) Organising:

The organizing function of an entrepreneur involves the bringing together the men, material, machine, money, etc. to execute the plans. Thus, organizing function of an entrepreneur ultimately provides a mechanism for purposive, integrated and co-operative action by many people in a joint and organized effort to implement a business plan.

(iii) Staffing:

Staffing involves human resource planning and human resource management. Thus, staffing function of an entrepreneur includes preparing a list of:

- Available personnel
- Requirement of personnel
- Sources of manpower recruitment
- Selection of personnel and remuneration,
- Training, development and periodic appraisal of personnel working in the enterprise.

(iv) Directing:

Direction is the process, by which the entrepreneur guides, counsels, teaches, stimulates and activates his/ her employees to work efficiently to accomplish the set objectives.

(v) Controlling:

Controlling is the last management function performed by the entrepreneur. It is the comparison of actual performance with the target or standard performance and identification of variation between the two, if any, and taking corrective measures so that the target is accomplished.

3. Promotional Functions:

(i) Identification and Selection of Business Idea:

The selection of a profitable and rewarding business project involves a process. This is based on the knowledge and prior experience of the individual as well as information gathered from friends and relatives. The information acquired can enable the individual identify new profitable innovative ideas which can be examined and pursued as a business enterprise.

This process is also described as 'opportunity scanning and identification'. The generated ideas are analyzed in terms of costs and benefits associated with them and the most beneficial idea is finally selected to be pursued as business enterprise.

(ii) Preparation of Business Plan or Project Report:

The entrepreneur prepares a statement called 'business plan' which is a well evolved course of action devised by entrepreneur to achieve the specified objectives within a specified period of time.

It contains information about the intending entrepreneur, location of enterprise, requirement for land and building, plant and machinery, raw material utilities, transport and communication, manpower, requirement for funds including working capital along with its sources of supply, break-even point and implementation schedule of the project.

(iii) Requirement for Finance:

The entrepreneur should plan requirement for funds with its detailed structure. Long term as well as short term requirements is to be identified separately.

XII Std - Home Science EM_Unit 7.indd 184 20-04-2020 6.48.55 PM