

Now run the app again. Phew! The app is building, and the files are nicely tucked away in their respective folders. Now that you've cleaned up the iOS directories, you can configure the tabs.