Install Hotwire Native Bridge

We need one JavaScript package on the web to get started. Install the Hotwire Native Bridge for web[42] library from the `rails` directory by running the following command:

```
bin/importmap pin @hotwired/hotwire-native-bridge

If you aren’t using import maps in your Rails application, then review the installation instructions[43] for more details on how to work with the dependency.

With your server configured, you can build a new bridge component by following these steps:

1. Add the HTML markup.
2. Create a Stimulus controller.
3. Create a native component.
