Our notifier is now set up to send FCM notifications to Android devices. We only need the credentials.

Authenticate FCM

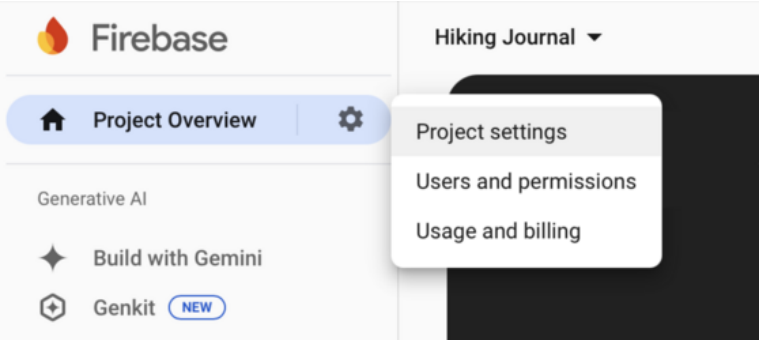

FCM notifications require a (free) Firebase project. Visit the Firebase Console[87] and sign in with a Google account. Then, click Create a project.

Enter Hiking Journal for the project name and click Continue.

Firebase projects can cover multiple platforms, not only Android apps. We'll create an associated Android app next.

When the project page opens, click the gear icon next to Project Overview and select the Project settings option, as shown in the screenshot.

Scroll down and click the Android icon to create a new Android app.
