```
  def be_an_email_address
    # Pass a simple regex to `match` to define a matcher for email addresses.
    # Don't worry about complete email validation; something very simple is fine.
    match(/some regex/)
  end

  it "generates email addresses" do value = DataGenerator.new.email_address_value expect(value).to be_an_email_address
  end

  def match_the_shape_of_a_user_record
    # Use `be_a_boolean`, `be_a_date_before_2000` and `be_an_email_address` # in the hash passed to `match` below to define this matcher.
    match(fill_this_in: "with a hash describing the shape of the data")
  end

  it "generates user records" do user = DataGenerator.new.user_record expect(user).to match_the_shape_of_a_user_record
  end

  def all_match_the_shape_of_a_user_record
    # Combine the `all` matcher and `match_the_shape_of_a_user_record` here.
    fill_me_in
  end

  it "generates a list of user records" do users = DataGenerator.new.users(4) expect(users).to all_match_the_shape_of_a_user_record
  end
end
```