specifically the current administration. I could not, however, bulletproof my speeches against any and all imagined interpretations.