‘make necessary arrangements for defence’. Despite this request being an eminently reasonable one, the special tribunal did not grant an adjournment. The gross violation of the fundamental tenets of the rule of law therefore continued unabated (Lahore Archives, previously unpublished).

In the court of the Special Tribunal Lahore Conspiracy Case, Lahore.

15

Crown Vs. Lahore and others.
Charged under Sec. 302, 120 B, 121-A, I.P.C.

The humble petition of the undersigned accused persons Raj Kumar Sinha and others most respectfully sheweth:—

(1) That the petitioners have been brought in trial before this learned court without sufficient notice.

(2). That the petitioners have at present no counsel to defend them.

(3). That it has not been possible for these reasons to draw up their line of defence.

(4) That it is therefore prayed that the hearing be adjourned for a fortnight to enable the petitioners to prepare their line of defence and further to make necessary arrangements for defence.

Dt. 5/5/30.

Raj Kumar Sinha
Shiv Varma
Jai Dev Kapur
Sukhdev and others.

Petitioners

5/5/30