15. This is the story of the man who fired the first shot in the Irish War of Independence, who was the leader of the 3rd Tipperary Brigade. In 1919, a group of young men, barely out of their teens, poorly armed, with no money and little training, renewed the fight that had begun in 1916 to drive the British out of Ireland. Dan Breen was to become the best known of them. At first, they were condemned on all sides. They became outlaws and My Fight for Irish Freedom describes graphically what life was like 'on the run,' with 'an army at one's heels and a thousand pounds on one's head'. A burning belief in their cause sustained them through many a dark and bitter day and slowly support came from the people.
