augment this by using Stimulus to manage other data you might add to the form before submission.

Now, let’s take a look at what to do when you have to contact a server that returns data rather than HTML.