[49] Ibid. This is also confirmed by VOC, Suyasarithai, p. 70.

[50] VOC, Suyasarithai, p. 69.

[51] Ibid., p. 53.

[52] T&TD, p. 6.

[53] Ibid.

[54] IOL: L/P&J/6/857. This is evidently a translation of the original Tamil notice.

[55] T&TD, pp. 4–6.

[56] Bipin Chandra Pal had been sentenced to six months in prison for refusing to testify against Aurobindo in the Bande Mataram case.

[57] MPAI, 1908, para 331(d).

[58] Ibid., para, 365(i).

[59] Ibid.

[60] 'History Sheet of V.O. Chidambaram Pillai.'

[61] Pate, Madras District Gazetteers: Tinnevelly, p. 344.

[62] Sedition Committee Report, 1918, p. 163.

[63] For a reconstruction of the protest and its analysis, see Venkatachalapathy, Tirunelveli Ezhuchiyum Va.Oo.Chiyum, 1908.

[64] Brown, Parry's of Madras, p. 194. The author, an ICS officer with some pretence to literary ability, was an apologist for British rule. Writing after Indian Independence, he still used scare quotes when referring to the massacre at Jallianwala Bagh, p. 235.

[65] The Hindu, 15-5-1908.

[66] 'Anti-Swadeshi in Madras', Bande Mataram, 23-3-1908 (Daily), 29-3-1908 (Weekly) in Sri Aurobindo, Vol. I.

[67] India (London), 24-4-1908.

[68] IOL: L/P&J/6/857.

[69] Petition dated 9 November 1908, G.O. no. 1542, Judicial & Confidential, 3-10-1911.

[70] Home Political A, Proceedings Nos 79–87, April 1908, GoI.

[71] Judgment in VOC's abetment case, G.O. no. 1542, Judicial & Confidential, 3-10-1911.