[66] Ibid., para 1033. More than a decade later, S.D. Krishna Aiyangar conceded that bona fide mistakes were made such as chartering an unseaworthy Ipswich. However, he refuted the argument that business should have been started only after capital had been collected. If they had waited for capital the company would never have started: who would invest in a company which had no ships? Oral evidence of S.D. Krishna Aiyangar, IMMC, evidence volume, p. 631.
