3.1.1 Definition

A cover is a place allotted on a table for an individual guest to have a meal where all the accessories including glassware, chinaware and tableware along with linen are laid for a particular type of meal.

Generally cover will occupy 24" x 18" space on a guest table for each person.

It includes

- Number of guests attending a certain party
- Number of seats in a restaurant or dining room, for example, a restaurant will have a maximum of 85 covers (guests) or more
- Number of necessary cutlery, flatware, crockery, glassware and linen to lay a certain type of place-setting for a single person.

3.1.2 Table Setting Requirements

For laying cover and service procedures, the following items are essential in a food establishment.

A. Furniture

Furniture in a restaurant should be chosen according to the needs, styles and décor. The kind, quality and design of the furniture used affect the atmosphere of the restaurant. It can be made up of metals like aluminium, wood and stainless steel. Currently plastics and fiberglass furniture are used extensively. They are durable, light, inexpensive and easy to clean.

The following points to be kept in mind while arranging the furniture in a restaurant:
