Plate 3.6 Table Linen

The table cloth is a decorative and essential accessory that unifies the components of the table setting. The design elements in a table cloth are dominance, visual, weight, colour, texture and pattern. The various varieties of linen clothes are cotton, synthetic, nylon and viscose. The type of linen used will depend on the service.

1. Slip cloth: A slip cloth is laid on top of an already placed table linen. The dimensions of the slip cloth will usually differ from those of the base table linen. It protects the main table cloth from the spillage and reduces the number of linens used.
