c. White wine glass: It is used to serve white wine and it has a smaller rim than the red wine. The person holds the stem instead of the glass as it retains the chillness of the drink for a long time.

d. Red wine glass: Red wine is served only half the glass. The tulip shaped helps to hold the aroma.

e. Coffee glasses: These are used to hold warm or iced beverages such as coffee, tea or cider.

f. Water glasses: It can hold 5 to 14 ounces of water.

g. Beer mug: Heavy thick mugs with sturdy handles for easier lifting.

Glassware is highly fragile, delicate and most expensive. Hence care must be taken while handling, cleaning, storing and serving.

Plate 3.12 Tom Collins

Plate 3.13 Champagne Glass

Plate 3.14 White Wine

Plate 3.15 Red Wine Glass

Plate 3.16 Glass Coffee Cup

Plate 3.17 Water Glass

FSM_Chapter 03.indd 50 1/13/2020 9:49:33 AM