- In oral or verbal communications, information is given directly, either through face-to-face or through telephone, mobile phones or office intercom.
- Written communication in an organization is an impersonal process, but it can provide more information to the receiver that what is possible in oral communication.
- The communication process is hardly a simple one. It surely suffers from a lot of potential problems within the organization which are called the barriers to communication.

GLOSSARY

Charisma	Charisma was used by Weber to describe one of three principal types of political authority. To Weber charisma was a personal quality of attraction and psychological power, capable of inspiring deep political loyalty in large numbers of people.
Authority	The power or right to give orders, make decisions, and enforce obedience.
Power	It is the possession of authority, control, or influence by which a person influences the actions of others, either by direct authority or by possession of some other means.
Leader	The person who leads or commands a group, organization, or country.
Trait	A quality of behavior of a person like hard working, honest person etc.
Autocratic Leader	Also called authoritarian leadership style is exemplified when a leader dictates policies and procedures, decides what goals are to be achieved, and directs and controls all activities without any meaningful participation by the subordinates.
Democratic leadership	Also known as participative leadership or shared leadership, is a type of leadership style in which members of the group take a more participative role in the decision-making process.
Laissez-faire leadership	Leadership style in which leaders are hands-off and allow group members to make the decisions.
Manager	A person responsible for controlling and administering a organization or group of people.
Functional Leadership	A leader who is expertise in one functional specialization department. It is a specific leader behaviors expected to contribute to organizational or unit effectiveness. This theory argues that the leader's main job is to see that whatever is necessary to group needs is to group effectiveness.
Verbal Communication	The sharing of information between individuals by using speech.
Rumour	An unofficial interesting story or piece of news that might be true or invented, and quickly spreads from person to person.
Horizontal Communication	It is the transmission of information between people, divisions, departments or units within the same level of organizational hierarchy.
Non-verbal communication	It is between people is communication through sending and receiving wordless cues.
Message	Message is a discrete unit of communication intended by the source for consumption by some recipient or group of recipients.

XII OSS_English version CHAPTER 07.indd 97 1/7/2020 6:03:14 PM