made the popular radio bearing its name. It was his first independent assignment. A month later, he was made director-in-charge of operations.