9.1.2.1 Conventional Frame

Here the various components are attached to frame and the vehicle body are superimposed on it. The total frame is mounted on the wheel axle by means of springs. This arrangement makes the body completely isolated from the frame deflection. It is mostly used in heavy vehicles like buses, trucks etc.

BAE_ENG_Chapter_09.indd 169 12/20/2019 1:05:55 PM